These are supposed to have slipped between cracks in the board floor recently put in over the concrete floor to preserve the silver bags from dampness. Many of these bags became mildewed and burst when handled, scattering their contents on the floor. The loss was so trifling that it was not deemed worth while to raise the flooring at present. When that is done the ten stray coins will undoubtedly be recovered. In the meanwhile the official who placed the silver in the bags from which the coins were absent was compelled to make good the deficit and await reimbursement in the treasury vaults, amounting to about $11,-000,000. COUNTING BIG MONEY

In Order to Transfer the Charge to the New Treasurer.

The count of the moneys and securities in the United States treasury, consequent upon the transfer of the office of treasurer from Mr. Nebeker to Mr. Morgan June 1 last, was completed this afternoon. It was an enormous undertaking, and involved the handling of about $681,900,000 in gold, silver, currency and bonds. The treasurer's accounts were verified in every instance, except in the case of silver stored in the large.

Gold in Grave Yards.

A statement prepared by the mint bureau, Treasury Department, shows that the production of gold and silver since 1732 up to 1892 aggregated $10,738,869,000, of which $5,633,908,000 was gold and $5,104,961,000 silver. Of the gold used in the arts it is stated, unofficially, that most of it is now in graveyards, as the practice of dentistry absorbs a large proportion of the gold used in the arts.

One of the female clerks in the inspector's division of the Post Office Department caused a panic this morning by rushing into Inspector Clum's lair and innocently asking him for a D blank. Mr. Clum was the first to detect the discrepancy between the tady's remark and church-going English, and promptly turned his face to the wall. The young lady, seeing the point, reddened like the sky when the flaring chariot of day rolls overboard into the waters of the west, and stammered out some explanation, which was that Inspector King had just invented a new demand blank for the benefit of delinquent post-King had just invented a new demand blank for the benefit of delinquent post-masters, and the initial of the word demand was used simply for the sake of brevity.

Orders have been issued by the Treasury

Orders have been issued by the Treasury Department to all subtreasurers to pay out gold over the counters, the same as other classes of money. The effect of this is to practically place the gold reserve among the available Treasury cash assets. As a result, the gold balance has been somewhat reduced, being slightly below $100,000,000. The net Treasury balance is $11,750,000. Receipts continue light and expenditures heavy, so that before the month of August expires

THE SENATE.

Among the numerous petitions presented in the Senate this morning was one remarkable specimen as to orthography, penma ship and ideas, which was presented by Mr. Peffer. It was referred, as all others on the same subject were, to the committee on

Mr. Stewart offered a resolution, which the street of the Secretary of

His speech tomorrow is expected to be the speech of the session on the repeal side of the question and it will probably attract more attention than any yet made.

Other Democratic Senators Influence.

It is understood that the attitude taken by Mr. Voorhees has influenced a number of the democratic Senators who, like himself, have always been bimetallists. The report is out today that three of four of the Senators who have always been silver men have said that they will vote for unconditional repeal if the proposition is suggested to calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for a statement as to the silver bullion purchased by the government during the month of July, with the price paid, and the silver bullion offered for sale in the same month, with the prices asked.

FEELING IN FRANCE.

ROME, Aug. 19.-The troubles growing out of the fighting between French and Italian workingmen employed at the salt to involve grave international complica tions. It is not in Rome alone that the popular indignation at what the Italians onsider a gross breach of international relations is finding vent in demonstrations that are evidently intended to coerce the government into demanding an apology from France for the attack upon Italians and the payment of an indemnity to com pensate the families of those Italians who were killed. were killed. Riots directed against Frenchmen have occurred in many of the provincial towns, and the situation is considered exceedingly grave.

The most serious outbreak of the popular feeling against the French occurred in this city late last night, when a hooting mob attempted to burn the French embassy. Some of the rioters carried cans of petroleum.and did not hesitate to openly declare that it was their intention to use it in destroying the embassy.

The authorities, however, were warned, that an attack might be attempted on the embassy, and a strong force of troops was detailed to guard the building. The rioters, nowever, attempted to carry out their threats to burn the embassy, notwithstanding the presence of the soldiers. They were ordered to disperse, but refused to do so, whereupon the soldiers charged upon them. The mob held their ground for a time and fought stubbornly. It was only after repeated charges upon them were made that they began to retreat, fighting all the time. Forty-five of the rioters were arrested. Many of the mob who were at the forefront fighting were wounded by the sabres that the soldiers used unsparingly.

The rioting in the provincial towns was only quelled by the use of troops, the police being utterly powerless to handle the mob. Further details are anxiously awaited.

Mr. Metcalfe stated that he was not on business pertaining to the cut.

GAINS FOR THE REPUBLICANS s Shown by Partial Returns From the Electoral Districts in France. PARIS, Aug. 21 .- The result of yesterday's known. The chamber of deputies consists of 584 members, of whom Algeria returns tricts. These returns show the election of 309 republicans, 14 conservateur rallies and 44 conservatives. Reballots will be necessary in 143 districts. Thus far the figures show that the republicans have gained forty-six seats and have not lost one.

An absolute majority of the votes cast, and at least one-quarter of the number on the voting register, must be obtained to secure election. In 153 districts none of the candidates secured the requisite number of votes, and consequently by-elections will have to be held in these districts. These elections will be held after an interval of seven days from the general election. In the district of Gers, that M. Paul de Cassagnac has represented since 1876, and in which he stood for re-election yesterday, a reballot is necessary. tricts. These returns show the election of
